

SUMMER SCHOOL
CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

June 29 – July 5, 2016

Crossing Borders and Civic Engagement in a Changing World

The Department of American Literature, School of English, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece, in collaboration with the Hellenic Association for American Studies (HELAAS), and the kind contribution of the Fulbright Foundation in Greece, is organizing its Second Summer School program.

This Summer School program will take place on the School of English premises (Faculty of Philosophy, New Building, 3rd Floor) from Wednesday 29 June to Tuesday 4 July, 2016.

The Seminar offers to participants 2 ECTS for 30 hours of lectures and workshops plus a 10-hour individual workload on research projects and assignments.

The 2016 Summer School aims at responding to current crises by investigating the impact similar tensions have had on cross-cultural understanding gradually building up to recent debates about politics and ethics, pedagogy and sensitive social issues, personal narratives and mobility challenges.

We welcome applications from:

- undergraduate and postgraduate students
- researchers from all fields of studies
- educators from primary, secondary and college education
- the interested public

The Summer School program is open to everyone who wishes to deepen their understanding of current scholarly debates and research within the context of:

- global geography
- diasporic narratives
- immigration
- international relations
- civic engagement and education

The language of the Summer School is English. The material to be used emerges from American Studies and current socio-cultural issues/themes.

The Summer School is divided into three thematic sections (two consecutive days per theme) to be discussed in a lecture and workshop format followed by individual or group projects.
